Introduction of QTube Café

What is common between Music and Investment?

A good return on your money gives you the same pleasure as hearing your favourite song. Where do the two tunes match you ask: The QTube Café.

Ten minutes away from Bandra station, lays a bright board displaying a logo that reminds you of an activity you're all too familiar with – train travelling. Only, instead of announcing the name of a station, the blue rectangle spells 'QTube Café'. A peek inside this glass-walled café reveals a comfortable setup and even in this one glance, you can tell that this is no conventional coffee shop.

As you maneuver through the seating, you immediately find your eyes scanning the walls, for almost every wall in the café is decorated with an interesting objet d'art. Whether it's the music album-themed clocks, a trippy Pink Floyd doodle or a set of humorous Mario Miranda prints, there's a lot that delights the eye of the art-lover.

While Natural Streets for Performing Arts (NSPA) will take care about musical background, Quantum Asset Management Company Private Limited (AMC) , which has established QTube Café, will have the pleasure to answer your doubts on investments.

The Natural Streets for Performing Arts is dedicated to bringing the culture of street performances to India, and supporting the livelihoods of independent artists - and helping the common man rediscover public spaces. NSPA is supported by Quantum AMC.

Please note that QTube Café will be an addition to the list of Official Points of Acceptance of the AMC with effect from October 5, 2016 details as follows:
